

2020 DAY OF CARING HAS BEEN POSTPONED.

A moment of crisis says a lot about a person and a community. Faced with stress, uncertainty and fear, we all react in different ways. What your United Way team has witnessed over the past few weeks, in the face of the COVID-19 health crisis, has been inspirational. So many in our community have shown impressive leadership, selfless acts, and sincere caring.

In response to the health crisis and in adherence with recommendations of state and local Departments of Health, we have postponed Day of Caring until further notice. Your Day of Caring project and your volunteer match will be placed on hold until Day of Caring is rescheduled.

We know your organization might need help now during this crisis. United Way of Greater Rochester has launched a COVID-19 portal on Volunteer United, an online resource that will connect caring community members with any volunteer and in-kind donation needs to help you serve those impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

As our community moves from responding to this crisis to recovery, we know that nonprofits are going to need our community's support more than ever. We hope to reschedule Day of Caring to best support organizations as they begin to rebuild their day-to-day operations. Stay tuned for more information and thank you for standing United.
